

PROJECT VERSIONING & BASELINE: CARD HEADLINES

Currently Project Managers can compare different version fields captured via the Compare Version Overview. However, users cannot choose which fields to display within the cards, and differences between version values are not highlighted via the cards.

With the enhancement of Project Versioning and Baseline by FinancialForce, Project Managers can now do the following:

Choose the fields that they would like to see for the captured objects within the cards as headlines, so that they have an overview of the most relevant project information.

See differences between version values per object that will be highlighted at the card level, so that changes are more apparent.
